After Gatto was released on June 18, 2027, the next Pixar film, Ducks will be released in November 17, 2029 as a musical film as the LAST Pixar film with a LIVE RECORDING album. This will be live recorded in the Lyric Theatre in Sydney, Australia, just like the 2012 Australian Cast Recording of Annie. This LIVE recorded album will feature songs (from the movie) such as "I Will Never Quack" and even dialogue with music such as "What's the Main Plan?".

The protagonist in the musical film is Quacks, a female yellow duck with her singing attitude to protect her duck pond form danger.

The main villain in the Pixar film is Winston, a purple duck who wants to take over the duck pond and destroy the duck’s home.

This will take place in a pond in North America. This will be the last Pixar film in 2029.